

Wednesday, 02-11-15

American Literature & Composition B.

Bell Ringer: Wednesday, 02-11-15

None today

Standards:

Standards: ELACC11-12RL1: Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text, including determining where the text leaves matters uncertain.

ELACC11-12RL2: Determine two or more themes or central ideas of text and analyze their development over the course of the text, including how they interact and build on one another to produce a complex account; provide an objective summary of the text.

ELACC11-12RL5: Analyze how an author's choices concerning how to structure specific parts of a text (e.g., the choice of where to begin or end a story, the choice to provide a comedic or tragic resolution) contribute to its overall structure and meaning as well as its aesthetic impact

ELACC11-12RL10: By the end of grade 11, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems, in the grades 11-CCR text complexity band proficiently, with scaffolding as needed at the high end of the range. By the end of grade 12, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems, in the grades 11-CCR text complexity band independently and proficiently

Motif vs. Theme

Motif and Theme

In a literary work, a motif can be seen as an image, sound, action or other figures that have a symbolic significance and contributes toward the development of theme. Motif and theme are linked in a literary work but there is a difference between them. In a literary piece, a motif is a recurrent image, idea or a symbol that develops or explains a theme while a theme is a central idea or message.

Motif vs. Symbol

Motif and Symbol

Sometimes, examples of motif are mistakenly identified as examples of symbols. Symbols are images, ideas, sounds or words that represent something else and help to understand an idea or a thing. Motifs, on the other hand, are images, ideas, sounds or words that help to explain the central idea of a literary work i.e. theme. Moreover, a symbol may appear once or twice in a literary work, whereas a motif is a recurring element.

Agenda: Wednesday, 02-11-15

What is Gothic Romanticism? What is the “dark side of the individual”? How does it differ from the early American Romantics?

- The motif chart for “The Masque of the Red Death” = half credit today only.
- 4 ½ week progress reports posted today/Email due next Wednesday, 02-18-15

Tuesday: Take notes on tone & mood. Read & discuss Poe’s “The Fall of the House of Usher” pp. 473-480, and begin filling out new motif chart.

Wednesday: Finish reading & discussing Poe’s “The Fall of the House of Usher” pp. 480, and fill out new motif chart.

2nd: pp. 480-490

4th: pp. 480-492

Listen here: https://archive.org/details/12_creepytale_1206_librivox

4 1/2 week progress report extra credit email

In the email, please have your parents/guardians state the following:

- 1) student's first and last name (preferably in the "Subject Line"),
- 2) which class period you're in
- 3) that they have seen your progress report and current gradebook

tone vs. mood

How Poe creates “mood”

1) detailed descriptions of settings through the use of imagery & figurative language

2) precisely chosen words (diction) & phrases and

3) narrator who both observes & participates

*Focus on the rationality vs. irrationality between the characters. (The narrator’s rationalism contrasts sharply with Roderick Usher’s dark and mystical frame of mind.)

*Keep in mind that the Usher estate (mansion) and family mirror each other.

Notes:

-deteriorating mansion/ crumbling family line = mirror for each other

-vortex?

-windows of the mansion = eyes into the house

Duality of Man: Look at Roderick and his twin sister as one entity; they are twins but can be seen as “two sides of one person”. Do we each have a "dark" side?